PREVIOUS PRIX GALIEN AWARD WINNERS

"What an amazing recognition for our global team, who have spent decades developing and distributing this vaccine.

Congratulations."

Albert Bourla

Chairman and CEO - Pfizer

"Merck's mission is to translate science into medically important products that positively impact humanity, so it is natural for us to support the Prix Galien, since it supports exactly that."

Kenneth C. Frazier

Chairman, CEO and President Merck

"The Galien Foundation brings together the top scientists in the world. You have Nobel Laureates across the spectrum of scientific disciplines meeting and talking with members of the pharmaceutical industry to see what's going on at the cutting edge, because ultimately that's going to benefit patients."

William Hait, MD, PhD

Global Head, Research & Development Janssen, Pharmaceutical Companies of Johnson & Johnson

"The launch of Prix Galien India is a meaningful tribute to India's contributions to science and medicine, and to the ways India's talent and ingenuity strengthen our shared work of forging a healthier future for all."

Vas Narasimhan, MD

AND THE FIRST WINNER IS?

The Prix Galien Award recognizes outstanding achievements in improving the global human condition through the development of innovative drugs and other treatments.

The Prix Galien was created in 1970 in honor of Galien, the father of medical science and modern pharmacology.

Worldwide, the Prix Galien is regarded as the equivalent of the Nobel Prize in biopharmaceutical research.
